Wages for Wives, Most Opportunities for Women in Industry Must Come

FORD REOPENS LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE

Henry Ford watches Edith Lebere, eight, studying her reader at the opening of the new school at Sudbury, Mass., Ford's New England village. This is an unusual schoolhouse, as it is the very structure to which Mary Sawyer's “little lamb” (of “Mary and Her Little Lamb” fame) followed her years ago. The Detroit auto manufacturer had it moved from the original site at Sterling, Mass., to his Wayside Inn estate. It bears a marker: “The Reserve School, 1798, School District No. 2, Sterling, Mass.”

Editor's Note: Breaking his silence on the subject of women, Henry Ford, the world's richest man, at his historic Wayside Inn, South Sudbury, Mass., gave to an International News Service correspondent the first exclusive authorized interview on women ever granted to a noted woman writer. This is the third and last of a series. In the first article the Detroit automobile manufacturer told of the exit of the old fashioned mother. In the second he discussed jazz and the younger generation.

BY THEODORA GEORGE (Copyright, 1927, by International News Service. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

SOUTH Sudbury, Mass., Jan. 21.—Henry Ford said wages for wives must come.

“We shall have to work out some scheme for a wage value for woman's work at home,” he told me. “We shall have to give her more opportunities in industry.”

“What is woman's work worth?” I inquired, but Mr. Ford was not equipping himself to any dollars and cents figure.

“It does not do to reduce such things to a concrete figure,” he said. “As soon as you mention some figure, people stop bothering to think for themselves and drift into accepting that figure as a basis forever. That will not work. Soon the figure mentioned no longer fits the changing conditions, and then people go to war about it.”

“People are always making wars to upset outgrown theories.”

“Think Out Problems.”

“We should think out problems, advance a tentative answer, but hold our thought fluid, ready to change or grow as circumstances require. People must think things out for themselves, and they must learn that as soon as you really start to think about a problem, you are bound to accomplish something.”

I suggested that sometimes progress seemed to come out of war; had not the women of the world gained much in economics and political freedom as a result of the World war?

“I wouldn't say that positively,” denied Mr. Ford. “How do you know that they would not have made the same progress without a war, that the time was not ripe for this evolution to appear?”

It seemed evident that Henry Ford visualizes a time to come when women will be so emancipated from the drudgery of overpriced chores in cooking and housework that they can go out of the home to engage in wage-paying productive work. The money this earned will provide for themselves and their children still more labor-saving devices.

Hocking Valley Railroad Schedule Change Proves to Be Very Satisfactory, Claim

Rearrangement Seen as Decided Improvement in Service of Line; Watchman and Other Workers Clear Crossings of Ice During Thaw

The new schedule on which the Hocking Valley Railroad has been operating its passenger trains from Columbus to Toledo and Detroit, via Marion, since the first of the year, has proved very successful up to this time.

Rebuilding the first of the year the Hocking Valley placed eight trains in operation, four going each way each day. By the new plan, persons residing in Marion may go to Toledo in the morning and return before late at night.

“The Buckeye” is the name given to the new train and, according to reports, it is well patronized each day.

The Hocking Valley's schedule through Marion is as follows:

Northbound: 8:20 a. m.; 12:15 p. m.; 4:25 p. m.; and 12:50 a. m.

Southbound: 6:10 a. m.; 10:11 a. m.; 4:10 p. m.; and 8:20 p. m.

Clear Crossings.

Crossing watchmen and other workmen in the vicinity of the railroads yesterday afternoon were busy clearing the ice from the streets and taking their first glance at the pavement since a few weeks ago when the first snow and sleet storm visited Marion.

Watchmen were also engaged in clearing the tracks of all ice while the opportunity offered itself during the thaw.

Visits Here.

I. H. Schram, chief engineer of the Chicago Region, Erie Railroad, was in Marion yesterday.

Mr. W. B. Boley, traveling freight agent of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, was a visitor in Marion yesterday. Mr. Boley has headquarters in Toledo.

Jewell Blumer, commercial agent of the Nickel Plate, Richmond, with offices in Toledo, was a visitor in local railroad offices yesterday.

P. C. Bulech, inspector in milling and transit from the bureau in Detroit, was here yesterday looking over the various records relating to his work.

Pearl Parich, weight and rate inspector of Postoria, was in Marion yesterday on business relating to his office. Mr. Parich is employed by the weight and rate department of railroads.

Leo Stoper, clerk in the local Hocking Valley freight office, was back on the job today after a few days' illness.

A number of officials of the Hocking Valley Railroad were enroute from Marion to their office in various surrounding cities and villages last night after attending the regular monthly safety meeting of the Toledo Division of the Hocking Valley Railroad, held yesterday afternoon in the office of Track Supervisor F. A. Sparks of this city.

“We will find a substitute for milk, steady, healthy and less expensive to produce.”

Then Mr. Ford showed his human side. He had been talking about his three boys and our home on Cape Cod.

“Don't you find yourself that it is hard to manage a home for your children and carry on your literary work?” he asked.

“Yes,” I answered. “But children need a mother, whatever else happens.”

“Good from it.”

“I know that,” said Mr. Ford sympathetically, “and if we can live with women along some lines about” far to those we have talked over, they will have more time for their children.”

He shook hands and the interview was over.

A moment later his gray head was bowed around the corner of the door of the tax room of the Red Horse Tavern for one last word.

“Treat it nicely,” said Henry Ford earnestly, “and maybe some good will come out of it. Remember, food, finance and education are what are going to set women free.”

Stops Knocks • Starts Quicker Makes Any Car Run Better

MOTORISTS...a new experience...a new thrill awaits you...when you fill your tank with SUPER-SHELL...the most recent addition to the Shell line of quality products.

SUPER-SHELL is wonderful...different...in a class by itself. Stops knocks and quiet the motor in a natural way...without added chemicals or other foreign ingredients. Vaporizes instantly...starts at a touch in cold weather. Accelerates quickly...you're off and ahead of the traffic when the signal says “GO.”

Gives increased power the full length of the piston stroke. And it burns cleanly...with less carbon...no fouled spark plugs or pitted valves.

You'll never know how smoothly, quietly and powerfully your car can run until you use SUPER-SHELL. Try it today. Put it to the test. Judge it for yourself. Let it tell its own story of wonderfully improved performance.

Super-Shell is available in all Shell service stations. It is the most recent addition to the Shell line of quality products.

Daily Proverb—"A man loses his time that comes early to a bad bargain."

The marines have been sent to Nicaragua, but the most of the fighting, seemingly, is being done in Washington.

As the days pass, we wonder more and more how Senator Tom Heflin has so long been able to conceal the marked genius for invention which he seems to possess.

It wouldn't be much of a job for Tex Rickard to pick the best man to fight Gene Tunney if he only knew which one would pull the biggest "gate."

What makes this sudden sobriety in Scotland the more amazing is that they haven't yet recovered from the effects of the strike over there and are still short on coal.

Apparently to cast more doubt upon that story that she was kidnapped while bathing, the Ohio State Journal man has dug up the alleged fact that Althea Somple McPherson wears the outside variety.

Appropos of the controversy over the poisoning of whiskey, it must be noted that a mystery to Mr. Mussolini that General Andrews never thought of resorting to castor oil.

Having had time to compare the results with the forecasts, we have about come to the conclusion that the sport writers and experts do not know any more about picking winners at swimming than they do about sizing up pug.

So far as we have been able to glean from Washington stories, none of the president's many callers has yet reported finding him in a garrulous mood.

That Catalina swimming contest doesn't look to us like good advertising. It certainly wasn't worth $25,000 and incidental expenses to demonstrate that the sea off Los Angeles is cold enough to put out ninety-nine per cent. of the swimmers.

"D. C. Reed's Estate Is Only $4,668,679," read a headline in a New York City paper a day or two ago. Only $4,668,679! Manifestly, location has a lot to do with riches—or lack of them.

The Young Men's club, of Chattanooga, upon the protest of the ministers of that city, has canceled a contract with Judge Ben Lindsey, of Denver, to deliver a lecture there. It seems that some of the Tennessee ministers do not take any more kindly to what they look upon as the Judge's free love ideas than they do to evolution.

None of the sporting writers saw George Young at the start of the Catalina swim, but there's no getting away from the fact that all of them have been giving him a lot of attention since the finish.

Right in the face of the fact that a man up in one of the Dakotas drank ninety cups of coffee in three and half hours, there probably will still be people who will question the advance of civilization.

Somebody has said that everything in connection with the automobile has been organized with the exception of the owners. Sure! They are the consumers, and the consumer is ever the goat.

Alberto J. Paul, the financial genius of the Calles administration, has resigned the treasury portfolio owing to lack of sympathy with the present Mexican policy in connection with oil and the church. It's not exactly what one might call a good indication of the stability of the present government down there.

City Should Do Its Part.

We are glad to note that Mayor Hazen has issued instructions to the police department looking to the enforcement of the city ordinance providing for the removal of snow and ice from the sidewalks in the business sections of the city. It is right that it should be enforced. The keeping clean of the pavements in the winter season adds mightily to the appearance of the city's business sections; it makes shopping far more pleasant and thus stands for good business, and, most important of all, it decreases the danger of injury from falls and thus adds to the safety of the citizenship.

But it seems to us, that the cleaning away of snow and ice from the pavements abutting business places does not solve the problem by any means. If the merchants of the city are to remove snow and ice from the pavements for the general good, it seems to us that the city, in common fairness, should meet them half way; that it should see that the snow and ice is removed from the lines of pedestrian travel at street crossings and alley intersections in the business sections. Obliging merchants to clean their sidewalks, it seems to us, the city thereby obligates itself to keep the street crossings and alley intersections clean. It has been done under preceding administrations of the city government, and there is no reason why it should not be done under the present. It's a duty which Mayor Hazen owes the citizens of Marion and a duty which he owes himself as mayor to see that this is done.

A Legal Outrage.

At the time it was in progress, we could not recall any greater travesty on what should be the dignity and decency of court procedure than the Heflin trial in Somerset, New Jersey. Going back in memory thirty or forty years, we could not recall anything which approached the injustice worked the defendants by bringing them to trial on a charge of murder and trying them on evidence so flimsy as that offered proved to be. The entire proceeding from its inception as a publicity stunt by a New York City tabloid paper up to the turning over of the matter to the jury was a disgrace to the state of New Jersey and a reflection not only upon her courts and the members of her bench and bar, but also upon the citizens of the state generally.

At the time, we never expected to see anything in the way of a legal proceeding even approach it. But we live to learn, and today, out in California, we see just as great an outrage, in principle, against justice and decency alike.

We refer, of course, to the methods being pursued in the divorce proceeding against Charlie Chaplin.

We do not know either party to the case, nor have we a desire to know them. We do not know regarding the truth or falsity of the charges made by the wife. In fact, we do not know many of the charges made by her; none, in fact, that she intends as reflections on his moral character. But we do know that they are, at this time, charges only, that they have not been established as facts. And some experience with the legal profession, even a legal profession largely inclined to observe legal ethics, has taught us to know that there is often a wide divergence between allegations contained in a petition and facts established at a trial or hearing.

Assuming for the sake of argument that Chaplin is morally vile, the fact remains that he has certain rights, or he should have, and should be protected in them.

The wife in this case secured a restraining order to prevent Chaplin from disposing of his property, either real or personal. She was justified in that. Such is a recognized course of legal procedure.

But not content with this, she had a receivership established and took possession of all the property of her husband she could find. She tied up his business as a motion-picture producer, with the result that there were no funds at hand with which to pay the salaries of his company. She so tied up his means as to make it something of a hardship to make a defense. The receivers took over his property, entered three of his wives, went over his private papers, and nosed into his private business affairs generally. Had Chaplin been an alien enemy in time of war he would have been treated with more consideration than he received. Not only did the state court do its utmost to handicap and embarrass him, but, apparently as a result of the proceedings taken by it, the government bothered up with an income tax claim for something over a million. The receivership has been temporarily lifted. It is true, but the damage has been done. And it is worth noting that the receivership and subsequent proceedings have been taken while Chaplin was absent in New York City and bedfast, and that the lifting of the receivership was not the result of effort upon his part, but upon that of his producing company.

California undoubtedly has a law for such proceedings as those followed, but it strikes us as being an unjust law. There may be similar laws in many states, possibly here in Ohio, but there shouldn't be. They should be wiped off all books of law. What has happened to Chaplin may happen to any man of means regardless of his standing, regardless of his probity, regardless of his high moral character. We have seen much in print regarding the need of revision of our criminal laws. It must be apparent to fair-minded people that some of our civil laws are greatly in need of revision.

"While America and the British empire continue to work together," says Premier Bruce of Australia, "there is still hope for mankind." Now for another poem of hate from Mr. Kipling to maintain the balance.

A twenty-four-year-old Philadelphian attending Cornell college was sentenced to ten days in jail and given a fine of $50 for slapping the face of a co-ed who refused to keep a dinner date with him, and later drove off with a revolver several students who remonstrated with him over his conduct toward the co-ed. It's rather a wonder he wasn't let off with a slap on the wrist.

In the light of the uncontroverted charge that over $500,000 were expended by the officials of the fur workers largely for bribery and to cause violence, the next time the public is told about "starving workers" it is liable to take the story with a grain or two of salt.

When a Hamburg-American liner answered the S. O. S. call of the British freighter, Zimrodok, in mid-ocean, it was learned that a seaman on the latter vessel had swallowed his false teeth and was choking to death. The former vessel, westward bound, brought the sufferer to New York, where an operation was performed, saving the seaman's life. The uses to which the radio is put are simply endless.

THE TRAVELER.

What matter that his crippled feet
 About his room scarce carry him,
 His spirit and adventures meet
 In Per, Fishoda, Sanikim,
 How can he walk so small and bare,
 When his brown eyes, so kind and keen,
 May welcome friends from here and there,
 And see in them what they have seen?
 When summer veils his confines,
 He dreams of woodlands cool and dim;
 He strolls in Dante's haunts, the pines
 Of San Vitale sing to him.
 And yet, a times, when hours creep by,
 Measured by watch and crotch and chair,
 His cloistered body seems to cry
 For the free world of Othellohere
 Ah! some day, when he shall have drawn
 The final individual breath,
 He will go out, and, as if again
 On that coast journey now in his brain,

Human Machine Ruts.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Do you realize how dependent you are on the power to move? Without this power you would be no better off than a cabbage.

Not only is locomotion essential to your happiness, the gathering of your food and the pursuit of your business, but upon the forms of motion depend your very life. What, indeed, is the human body, but a machine to produce movement?

The entire new has fingers, the hand-carrier his feet and hands, the ditch digger his arms and back. The teacher and preacher and singer use the muscles of the face and throat. Each of us depends on motion or movement of some sort.

The bones of the body are related to each other through the joints. One of the chief uses of the bones is to furnish a place of secure attachment for the muscles which operate the movements of the body. The bones play freely because of the freedom given by the joints.

Now, then, that upon this ease and perfection of movement is founded your welfare as a human being, you can see about your affairs, do your daily tasks and make yourself useful through the particular set of movements which you have adopted.

The mechanism of the body is perfect. The bones are the right size and shape. All the machinery is ready for instant use. What is to be done with it depends on you.

But, of course, there could be no voluntary movement without the nerves and their control through the muscles and brain. Without muscles and the nervous system, the body would be no better than a jumping jack or a monkey on a stick.

On this account the muscular system must be kept in perfect repair and working order. The entire must be such that rich blood and nourishment are supplied the muscles. Exercise, fresh air and sunlight contribute to their welfare.

Leave a machine to the action of the elements and it becomes rusty and squeaky and impaired in function. So, then, the common sense of health and the muscles become soft, flabby and unendurable.

We should lead such lives that the muscles are ready to act and to do their part in executing the movements upon which we depend. Since few movements are without the work of several muscles, and since some movements require the co-ordinating movements of many muscles, the whole body must be kept in condition.

Upon good health and vigor depend the accuracy and speed of all the movements of the body. The muscles are under orders every instant. We must see to it that they are kept in perfect condition.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

R. R. Q.—What should a girl weigh who is sixteen years old and five feet seven inches tall?
 A.—What can I do for superfluous hair on the face?

3.—What causes my feet to be tired and swollen?
 A.—How can I reduce?
 A.—The her age and height she should weigh about 132 pounds.

2.—Superfluous hair may be removed by the use of the electric needle. The work must be done by an expert skilled in this particular line. Fresh pores of hydrogen, frequently applied will bleach the hair, thus making it less conspicuous and it is contended by some people will retard the growth of hair.

3.—This condition may be due to kidney condition. Have a urinalysis made.

4.—Weight reduction is merely a matter of self-control as regards the diet. Exercise is essential. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

J. E. Q.—I am suffering from premature hardening of the arteries, and lately I have experienced a burning sensation in different parts of the body. Would potassium iodine be harmful if taken over a long stretch of time? Am losing weight. I take one—every night. Is that harmful?

A.—Your doctor should be the best judge of what treatment you require. Be guided by his judgment in the matter. If you watch your diet, drink plenty of water between meals and take a reasonable amount of exercise you should not have to resort to other means to keep the system cleared.

H. M. K. Q.—What causes me to yell and talk in my sleep?
 A.—Do you advise me to have my tonsils removed?

A.—This condition is usually due to enlarged tonsils, but may also be due to overfatigue, overwork and anxiety about school duties. Adenoids, enlarged tonsils or worms may be the cause as are also indulgence in unusual articles of diet, or eating too heavy a meal before retiring. Send self-addressed envelope.

2.—Yes, if they are diseased.—Copyright, 1927.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, write you personally if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. Royal S. Copeland, in care of this office.

Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding? Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, God understandeth the way thereof, and He knoweth the place thereof.—Job 28: 20, 21, 23.
 Prayer.—O Lord, from the best bliss that earth imparts we turn unfilled to Thee again.

Why Not?

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

It is easy to see why heads are coming into fashion again. Women have so completely taken men's hairdresses and men's garments that masculine vanity has to turn elsewhere for satisfaction. Women won't soon copy men's.

Bergium, famous sculptor, does not confine all his ideas to chiseling stone and marble. Speaking at the annual dinner of the American Road Builders' association, he proposes a four-track automobile highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Each road would be thirty or perhaps fifty feet wide. One track would be for slow-moving trucks or other vehicles traveling less than thirty miles an hour. The other tracks would be for fast traffic.

There must be a great deal of serious thought and support given ideas of this sort if we are going to make transportation in America what it can and ought to be made.

Griggs, teacher of biology at Dartmouth, is right when he says the Scopes trial in Tennessee made thousands of people think about and read about evolution who never thought or read about it before. It doesn't make much difference how you are introduced to an important matter. The point is—how do you react to it? We are all, much of the time, in the presence of knowledge, in the presence of inspiration. The question is, how do we act in the presence of it?

Rapidly scientists are learning to project pictures successfully by radio. They day may soon come when we shall sit by the fire and watch the photographs of distant people and distant scenes thrown on a screen for instruction and entertainment. What kind of people shall we come to be when we no longer have to go out after things, but have all things brought to us?

Mallard dogs, the little white-haired animals which were very popular a few years ago, are no longer to be found on their native island. They were all exported for breeding.

In the great Russian oil field near Baku, on the Caspian sea, a seat of ancient fire worship, there still exists a burning place that was alight four centuries before the discovery of America by Columbus.

One of the strange things about electricity is that a current of 2,000 volts will cause instantaneous death, while some voltages much higher may be quite harmless. The theory is that the higher current does not go through the body but passes round it.

In very primitive places of worship it was usual to build the steeple on the ground beside the church—not as part of the church as in later days. This was done in the belief that the pointed steeple would attract the power of evil.

The popular chocolate confections as we know them today were the result of accident. Many years ago a candy-maker got the idea of covering the creams with chocolate in order to make them hold together. His purpose was solely to be able to sell the creams, but his customers took a fancy to the chocolate.

Gradually the creams were replaced with other flavors, such as nougat, nuts, caramel and fruits.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q.—How many whales were put to death in the city of Treves? R. K.
 A.—Over 7,000. The number killed in European countries is estimated at 300,000.

Q.—Can silage be fed as soon as it is ready? D. T.
 A.—The department of agriculture says that it may be fed as soon as the silage is filled, but that it is better three or four weeks later when it has had time to ferment properly.

Q.—How many fourth-class post-offices are there in the United States? W. L.
 A.—Approximately 35,000.

Q.—In what year was Webster's New International dictionary revised and the obsolete and rare words placed in a separate section of the page? D. M.
 A.—The G. & C. Merriam company says that the divided page was adopted in the edition that was published in 1909.

Q.—What per cent of the world's wealth belongs to the United States? N. O. K.
 A.—According to a recent estimate the national wealth of the United States is almost $100,000,000,000, forty per cent. of the total world's wealth.

Q.—Please give the names of some notable living negroes. F. R.
 A.—Some of them are: L. B. R. Scott, secretary of Howard university, and during the war appointed by President Wilson as assistant to the secretary of war; R. R. Moton, noted educator, and president of Tuskegee institute; Wm. Stanley Braithwaite, poet; Meta Braithwaite, poet; Meta Vaux Warlick, sculptor; Henry O. Tanner, artist; Joseph Henry Douglas, grandson of Frederick Douglass; Eugene Gordon, short story writer; Charles Gilpin, actor; L. O. Gourdin, athlete, Harvard university.

Q.—On what meridian is Meridian park in Washington? M. B.
 A.—In the early days Washington established a zero meridian. This is marked by the Jefferson statue at the center of the ellipse back of the White House. The white line in the center of Sixteenth street just west of Meridian park is the same meridian. Calculated from Greenwich its longitude is only seven degrees two minutes 12.45 seconds west.

Q.—Is there a pretender to the throne of Iceland? E. G.
 A.—Iceland never had a separate throne; hence there is no pretender to it. Until 1103, Iceland belonged to the province of the Archbishop of Bremen, later to that of Lund. In 1262, Norway induced Iceland to join its fortune with that of Norway. In 1260 both came under the crown of Denmark.

Q.—Does an auto tire weigh more after it is pumped up? C. J.
 A.—Air has weight, and a tire's weight increases according to the amount of air pumped into it.

The Way of the World.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

New York, Jan. 21.—Thoughtful strolling. The hotel porter who said to be a millionaire. But keeps on working. Six on a ladder: "Take, Inc. Window Shop." Frisco, the dancer, with his derby and "The Shave Yourself and Clean Shaven" Grand for night owls.

Wonder why country sausage loses its tag in New York. J. P. McEvoy, who was a player and Christmas card jingles. Newspaper photographers waiting on a window ledge for some one. Try to fool those lads. The hotel with slots in the bathroom for razor sales. Thus solving a worry of millions.

The brittle, glassy chill of sea air. Water clouds loathing along. What ever became of ear-muffs with brass slip rods? Those hats with eyes like tired blood-hounds. The big motors and the shriek of brakes. The western mid-town letter carrier with Kansas state whippers.

Dinky Moore's and the smell of cabbage. A crate of bawling calves. Five-rated flower girls whose husbands go. Five passed out from Panini signs without touching the ground. Actor with a purple coat—the gaudy crowd. And a blind news-vendor swarms like a chained elephant.

Fitting New York firm names.—Brennan, coal dealer; Bing and Bing, the candy store; Sixty-cent apples. The price of the candy at the free concert afterward in my day. The camoels who laugh at life. And that is probably as good as any return to the mystery.

A lady asks for a "Whisper" in the city. A race track followers so cynical looking. Public league sign inquires: "Can you pay twelve apostles?" Speaking for mystics and a word—No.

In Chicago the other day I took my dog to a hotel where dogs are not permitted. A dog the lobby I spied a famous Broadway hopping gambler, a lady vamp who has traveled three homes and a man who has been borrowed to said to attend a relative's funeral. "There is no moral, but my dog is a perfect gentleman."

A gorgeously-arranged attendant informed me the dog would be taken care of splendidly in the basement. "He's a valuable dog, I said in my laughtest tone.

"Well, we took care of Strongheart" was the retort.

And the only answer a fellow could make to that is: "Is that so?"

The outstanding impression of the new corner to New York is that there are no telegraph, telephone or trolley wires above ground. All wires are underground, which is one of the reasons why New York streets are always torn up. A westerner observing New York streets for the first time commented: "A tough spot for sparrows."

The other day I met a retired manager of a local afternoon newspaper. For over thirty years this man had voluntarily exiled himself from his fellows because of a phlegm. He had promised his publisher he would suppress a story and he realized to do this successfully he must have no friends. He mingled with men he knew that some day would be in the cards for some of them to see him. This he could not give. In his reporting days I knew of him as a fearful agent of the editorial room—a man who would do anything he was in middle age a soft spoken fellow who might have been an English noble. He is through with newspaper work, Northcliffe and other great publishers call him, to meet a stubborn refusal. All a small wonder.

A prima donna in a pet recently took a run of the play contract because the producer wanted to hire a less expensive one. She showed capacity business. All of which was that even in theatricals it is dangerous to change horses crossing a stream.—Copyright, 1927.

Mrs. Anna Leaverton and Mr. Joel W. Hoffman were married by Justice Charles H. Corley.

H. C. Smart was installed as noble grand of Kaelusko Lodge, No. 58, I. O. O. F.

Wheat was bringing seventy-eight cents; Chicago, corn, 46 1/2; oats, 35 1/2; prime heavy, $6.10 to $7; hogs, heavy, $6.60 to $6.75; and sheep, native, $4.90 to $5.00.

Mrs. S. B. Lippincott was hostess to members of the current Topic club at her home on East Center street.

Mrs. W. L. Warner was hostess at a meeting of the Woman's club at her home on East Church street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. B. (Clifford) Espyville.

The Star told of the birth of a son, child to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cusick, of Elm street, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Boyd, of 30 Vernon avenue.

Dinner Stories.

Two colored men down in southern Texas were bawling the hard times being felt by agricultural districts there. "Times are bad, but I never seen them before," said one. "I can't even get hold of a nickel," said the other. "You don't get any more," said the first. "What do I need, then?"

"Two more legs and a better voice."

REVIVAL SERVICE

Interest Increasing in Forest Lawn Church Service

Increased interest in the revival now in progress at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church was shown last night when a record attendance was present. Rev. Robert L. Porter, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Gallon, preached on the subject, "Christ, Our Saviour," saying, "After a service the test is not whether one says, 'What a great sermon,' but 'What a Wonderful Saviour.'"

The Sunday School orchestra opened the program with a prelude and played several selections during the service. Edward Weller sang a solo, "Alone at the Beautiful Gate," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Walter Sloan. Rev. Alfred W. Swan, pastor of the church, will be in charge of services to night and preach a sermon on the subject, "The Day When Crowns Will Be Given." Members of the Junior choir will present a program, Mrs. W. B. Long directing the congregational singing.

TAKES OFFICE

Mrs. Ida Miller Installed As Auxiliary Head

Mrs. Ida Miller was installed as president of the Ladies' auxiliary by Mrs. Ella Feldner, past president, at a meeting last night in the English temple. Mrs. Kelly was installed as vice president; Mrs. Chas. Guy, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Morrison, treasurer; Mrs. Jesse W. Brown, right hand conductor and Mrs. Ella Feldner and Mrs. Ella Andrews, trustees. Six elected officers, who were absent due to illness, will be installed at the next regular meeting, Jan. 28 in the temple. Seventeen tables were filled for punch supper at a card party which followed, honors going to Mrs. Roy Hufford and B. Davis while Mrs. Margaret Morrison and B. Barnheim were consoling.

PLAN HOMECOMING

File Memorial Society Arranges For Special Services

Plans were made for the annual homecoming to be held Feb. 10 at the church, at the meeting of members of the Woman's Memorial Society, File Memorial Baptist Church, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. L. Taylor. Mrs. F. L. Sanderson will be in charge of arrangements for the program. The following new officers and their duties: Mrs. Hiram Chappin, president; Mrs. E. H. Long, secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Sanderson, right hand conductor; Mrs. A. G. Advance, pianist. Mrs. A. G. Advance presided for the program hour. Plans were made for an all-day work meeting Feb. 2 at the home of Mrs. Frank Housh, 1000 Oak.

DEED OBTAINED

Marion Elks' Arrange To Finance Memorial Monument

Announcement that the deed for the B.S. memorial plot in Marion Cemetery had been turned over to the order, and at $2,500 had been raised toward the erection of the memorial monument, attracted the regular meeting of the Elks Lodge, No. 32 B. P. O. Elks. A motion was introduced to raise the fund so that work could soon be started on the monument. J. L. Jettie, president of the Elks' Association, was called on for a few remarks. Justice is making a tour of all the lodges in the city. One new member was elected and it was decided that a class of new members will be initiated in February.

MISS IMO THOMPSON IS

Living

MR. RIGHT MAN

Loving

"YOU'RE a nice girl," confidently remarks the eligible young man to the charming young woman. "Why don't you get married?"

A leading question, certainly. Does the charming young woman blush and murmur, "Oh, this is so sudden!" and straightaway set about ordering her trousseau? She does not! She knows better. Wise in her day and generation, she instantly misses the plural pronoun that would have made the words a proposal, and she takes them for just what they are—merely an evasive question prompted by the curiosity of a man vaguely conscious of qualities in the charming young woman that would make her an ideal wife—for somebody else, of course—and a desire to compliment her.

Woman knows the eligible young man expects an answer? Shall she turn her head and shrug her shoulders and say in tones deliberately scornful—

"Well, since you ask me, I have never married. I consider with the price of my personal liberty, I don't marry because I don't wish to."

Or shall she look the questioner in the eye and admit—

"I don't marry because no man I really want has asked me?"

Every girl to the age of reason grows thinks of marriage, and thinks of it rather often. It is natural. Why, then, should she hesitate to admit it, why think it a feather in her cap to impress the world at large with the notion that her heart is unclaimed?

WOMEN are always a little in love. One day a girl meets a young man who is just what she needs. She is quite often right in her analysis, this is probably the reason why the girl who deliberately tries to make a man believe she is turning down his advances is often the one who is most likely to be after another man to fulfill her desires.

It does not at all follow that because one has not been proposed to by the ideal of her dreams she has not been proposed to at all. And the girl who is honest enough to admit she is all hope fully awaiting Mr. Right, commands universal respect and admiration. Many a wayward nurse has made the crowd along Lafayette Highway. There's no consolation attached in that. But, frankly, enough, expected, Mr. Right usually arrives, and there's a happy ending to the story.

CHAPTER NINETEEN

In the street I turned sharp to the left, and walked on towards the house. I noticed that the two men in plain clothes fell into step unobtrusively behind me. A tail was waiting at the corner with its flag down, and I saw the man, who was evidently waiting for me.

"Yes," I said, "as quick as you can."

I looked around as we were crossing the street, and saw a small two-seater Citroën, with two men in it, whom I recognized as my official chauffeur.

We went up the rue du Mont Blanc, crossed a railway bridge, and then, after breasting a long hill, we found that we had left the town behind us and were in open country.

A few minutes later we stopped on a stone building with a notice on the wall which read: "The driver of this Citroën is waiting for you." The driver of the car, I informed me, was waiting for me in a few moments showing his papers before we could proceed. I showed my passport to the customs official and stayed in the car, waiting.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach and bowels need a cleansing.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, vomits or acts naturally, has stomach-ache, nervous prostration, a gentle liver and bowel cleanser should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the bad waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "easy laxative," and it never fails to give a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and youngsters are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little goes today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away

Are you one of those unfortunate ones who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?

You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S. S. S. For more than 100 years it has been giving relief to thousands of cases, as attested to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S. S. S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me.

I also had a breaking out on my hands for years that nothing would heal, but now this has disappeared and I am sure that it was S. S. S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health, and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S. S. S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The large size is more economical.—Ad.

4 Things You Must Do for Colds

Once helpless from lame back, now does all her own work

Made practically helpless by a strained back, an active young housewife tried everything and could think of, and at last found quick and complete relief from a simple, old-fashioned remedy.

"The pain in my back was like a knife stab," she writes, "and it left me helpless. Sloan's Liniment was given to me to ease the pain, and I am now able to do all my own work."

Sloan's gets results because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It stirs up the body's own forces to get rid of the cause.

Just put it on lightly without rubbing, and at once you feel a cooling, soothing glow, as the healing liquid is sent creeping through muscles, skin, the pain leaves, and soon normal conditions are restored.

200 MEN, BOYS ENJOY BANQUET AT MT. GILEAD

Rev. R. W. Smiley, Marion;
Hugh Diamond, Galion;
Principals on Program

Mt. Gilead, Jan. 21.—Nearly 200 men and boys participated in the Father and Son Banquet of the Mt. Gilead First Presbyterian Church in the church parlors last night.

Attorney J. W. Barry presided as toastmaster. Music throughout the dinner was furnished by the High School Girls' orchestra.

Following a number by the Presbyterian Ladies' Quartet, a toast, "Son," was given by Judge W. P. Vaughan. Burton Nesbitt responded with "Father."

Rev. Smiley Talks
After another number by the quartet, Rev. R. W. Smiley, of Marion, spoke on "What a Father Should Teach His Son."

Most of all, a father should teach his son not to be lazy. A lazy man is the most worthless and despicable being on earth. He should teach his son to be an optimist, to look on the bright side of things. Lastly, he should by example, teach his son to be good," he said.

Diamond Entertains
Hugh Diamond, famous Scotch entertainer, appeared next on the program with his humor, wit and philosophy.

He sang a number of Scotch songs and played several airs. This talk was presented with good cheer and a faith in America and her institutions.

Postmaster Barry called upon W. E. Miller, Frank McMillan and Rev. Daniel Hamilton, who responded briefly. Following the singing of America, benediction was pronounced by Rev. Hamilton.

The banquet was prepared and served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, assisted by the young ladies. The menu follows: Roast ham, mashed potatoes, creamed carrots, lima beans, apple sauce, jellies, bread and butter, pickles, cherry pie and coffee.

Is It Lumbago?

Mrs. Edna Irvin

Akron, Ohio.—"I was completely down with kidney trouble and lumbago, my back was so sore and stiff I could not lie down—had to be propped up with pillows. My feet and ankles were swollen. I was so bad I was not able to be around when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets and in less than a week I was able to be about. By the time I had taken four bottles of 'Ankle' my kidneys were apparently all right, the lumbago left me, the swelling went down and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since."—Mrs. Edna Irvin, 555 Walbach Ave.

Stop into any drug store and ask for Dr. Pierce's Ankle Tablets, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.—Adv.

TWO HURT IN FALLS ON ICE

Kenton, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Curtis Butler is in a critical condition at her home here as a result of a fall on the ice last night. Mrs. Butler is said to have suffered a slight concussion of the brain and other minor injuries. She was walking on E. Frankling when the accident occurred.

FORWARD PETITION TO CONGRESSMAN FLETCHER

Morrow County Citizens Seek Favorable Attention for Civil War Pension Bill

Mt. Gilead, Jan. 21.—Morrow county citizens have sent to Congressman Brooks Fletcher a petition with a list of names, that, together with the addresses, reaches a length of three feet, four inches. At the head of the petition is the picture of a snow-covered graveyard, showing two newly made graves with crosses covered with American flags beside them.

The petition has been sent to Congressman Fletcher by M. J. Benedict, of Marion.

The signers ask that immediate steps be taken to bring to a vote the Civil War pension bill in order that the relief may be accorded to needy and suffering veterans and the widows and their party repay the living for sacrifices they have made. They also urge the support of the bill on the part of the Senators and Congressmen be given this legislation.

1498 STUDENTS LISTED ON GALION SCHOOL ROLL

Members of Upper Classes Less
Punctual Than Elementary
Pupils

Galion, Jan. 21.—The recent report submitted by R. D. Conrad, superintendent of the Galion schools shows that 1498 students are enrolled in the schools of the city and that the average daily attendance is 1417.

The Junior high school accommodates the largest number of any of the city schools as 742 students fringe to classes there each day. The North school reports the best average attendance and the most punctual of the city schools.

The students of the high school have the most difficulty getting to classes on time and fall far behind the younger children in punctuality. During the two weeks school was in session in the month of December 30 pupils of G. H. S. are on record for coming to school late.

A general improvement of work done is satisfactory according to the report and somewhat makes up for the time loss.

CARDINGTON LEGION IS GIVEN GERMAN CANNON

Dedication Exercises Will Be Held April 6; Plan Huge Celebration

Cardington, Jan. 21.—P. W. Sipe, Walter Mathers, Robert Benson and Charles Powers went to Columbus, Tuesday, bringing home the German cannon awarded to Rex D. Jenkins (Capt. American Legion), by the state board of armaments, which is in charge of all World War trophies to counties in Ohio.

The piece is known as a 177 M. M. Minerve cannon and weighs 1,700 pounds with a barrel about four feet long and a bore of between five and six inches and is five feet high, unmounted. The gun will be located in some part of town.

The dedication exercises will be held April 6, the tenth anniversary of the declaration of war with Germany.

It is expected to make this a big celebration, with all the legion posts and legionnaires in this vicinity participating. The board of armaments awarded the Mt. Gilead Legion a captured machine, consisting of bayonets, cartridges, helmets, machine guns, rifles, shells etc. These will not be displayed until the Mt. Gilead Legion formally dedicates its new home.

PIMPLY, RED SKIN

ITCHED AND BURNED—UGLY TO LOOK AT

Healed at last, quickly and easily

Charlotte, Mich., Oct. 21:—"I have been a sufferer from a most unsightly skin disorder, my face being full of pimples and blackheads and my complexion was very repulsive. It was very ugly to look at as it was red and fiery and it annoyed me by itching and burning. I tried many treatments, but got no relief. When I was a small baby I had eczema on my body and my mother used Resinol Ointment on it and she recommended it to me at this time. In desperation I decided to send for a sample of Resinol. After using the sample I bought more Resinol as I was convinced it was a splendid remedy. After I had applied it four times, the pimples began to heal and at the end of two weeks they had entirely disappeared. Now I have such confidence in Resinol Ointment I would not be without it." ## FIGHT TO DAM COLORADO RIVER ADVANCES STEP

House Committee Hears Pleas To Bring Bill Before Representatives

Washington, Jan. 21.—The five-year fight to enact the Swing-Johnson bill to dam the Colorado River at Boulder Canyon advanced another step toward final decision when the house rules committee yesterday heard pleas for a rule to bring the bill before the house.

Rep. Smith, Republican of Idaho, chairman of the irrigation committee, which recommended the bill for passage, declared that the flood menace on the lower Colorado makes early action imperative.

"It will take five or six years to build the great dam and power plants," said Smith. "Conditions on the lower Colorado are becoming worse as silt accumulates. It is but a question of a few years until there is another disastrous flood."

Opposition of big power interests to the bill is unjustified, Smith asserted. "On general principles—government building and operation might not be justified, but it is in this case," he said. "The interests of the people of many states are involved. The project is a government property. It would serve the interests of all better to have one great project than to have several private plants in the canyon."

The Boulder dam project, involving an outlay of $125,000,000, would provide flood protection, water for irrigation or power for seven states, its backers declared.

Pinchot Goes to Capital

Militant Retiring Governor of Pennsylvania Tells What He Intends Doing in Washington: Gives Opinion on Present State of Government

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 21.—Gov. Pinchot, retiring from the governorship of Pennsylvania, moves on to Washington—and for signed political wise-acre there are few more deeply than his.

It soon will be open season for presidential horse and horse. There is no telling who may spring one, or throw the other.

That is why the presence at the capital of this outspoken critic of bad government, who revolutionized the administration of a corrupt, boss-ridden state in just one term of office, begins to loom into national importance.

Pinchot, naturally, dismisses such interpretation with modest gesture. "I am just going back," he says, to my first love—that of conservation."

Broader Field Now

But that term, which he and Roosevelt originated to cover the preservation of forests and water, of all natural resources, now is applied to other fields, too.

"It includes," the governor admits, "child welfare, public health—and the like."

"Good government, too?" asked him.

Smith came the reply:

"One cannot conserve that which does not exist."

And therein lies the key to concern in certain political quarters. For Pinchot is relentless in his attack on what he deems wrong.

In his own state he assailed the government machinery administered chiefly for the service of political insiders, while the people got little more than the crumbs which fell from the rich men's table.

Outspoken on Prohibition

In the Coolidge government, he lambasted the prohibition attitude.

"The Federal service for enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment, with its entire control over the sources of illegal drink has broken down not only disgracefully, but dishonestly," he says. "Prohibition can be enforced."

"If the Federal government had any intention to enforce this law, this country could be completely dry."

He notices no words about political ring corruptness, developed "as a part of the business of certain great moneyed interests."

"There is today," says Pinchot, "no question more vividly before the people of the United States than election frauds. I speak from personal experience. My own administration would never have come into office except for an error of judgment on the part of the Philadelphia gang as to how many votes they had to steal."

Another Concise Opinion

In the senatorial election he refused to support Vane, his party's candidate. It is this conciseness of expression and fearlessness, that is making party leaders quake a bit. For Pinchot has never forgotten his allegiance to the Progressivism of Roosevelt.

"The general let-down of moral standards is not limited only to our politics," he says. "It is evidenced in all phases of our national life. What we need is a return to the simple virtues and direct point of view of Roosevelt—a Renaissance of the Ten Commandments."

"Progress in the right direction is being made. People are willing to talk things over. There is a realization that the control by special interests is not the best in the world."

"But the shifting is slow, from that point of view so well expressed by Bill White: 'Nobody cares what happens to anybody except to an investment broker.'"

A knock at the door interrupted the interview. The game commission was making its last call. Pinchot still is undecided whether there is any good existing after further office or nomination.

Give all this up. It has been four years of fun. Then a broader smile. "Maybe, now I can go fishing again."

What he'll do. "That's what he likes best to do—and that is what he will do just as soon as he can get away from Washington. There, officially, he will devote himself to a study of the Mule Shoals project. (Pinchot was one of the first to fight Henry Ford's offer, the Boulder Dam legislation, the development of giant power, and the grazing in the national forests.)"

Then, he'll run up to Milford, Pa., where he has a fine home, good streams and a 2 1/2-acre road that leads most everything.

It seems he could be doing this most down to Washington. But Pinchot still is undecided whether there is any good existing after further office or nomination.

After all, I am sorry to have to

AMERICAN DIVORCES IN PARIS SHOW INCREASE

At Least Half as Many More Granted in 1926 as in 1925

Paris, Jan. 21.—At least 50 per cent more American divorces were granted in Paris during 1926 than during the preceding year, according to unofficial and probably incomplete figures compiled here today.

Official figures show that 120 American couples were separated here during 1926. The total for 1925 was approximately 185.

July was the most popular divorcing month, with a total of 19. October followed with 36. The summer tourist rush and the fact that the Seine Tribunal takes up holiday during August and September, accounted for the large number during July. The judges practically cleared their dockets before leaving on their vacations.

Divorces granted in October represented the demand which had accumulated during the vacation season.

It is estimated that American lawyers in Paris and their French assistants who actually attend the cases reaped a golden harvest of at least 1,000,000 francs from their American divorce clients.

MUSIC HATH CHARM FOR WAYWARD GIRLS, CLAIM

Each Cottage in Illinois State School Has Own Distinctive Hymn

Geneva, Ill., Jan. 21.—Music is really has power to soothe the savage breast but it also is one of the most reforming influences in vogue in the state school for wayward girls here, according to Miss Lucy D. Ball, managing officer.

"No art appeals more," Miss Ball said in discussing this phase of institutional policy, "than could excite such enthusiasm as music. There can always be a keen perception of music wherever there is order, harmony and proportion."

"Each cottage has its distinctive hymn. The girls forget their troubles or differences while singing. Only the best music is supplied or encouraged."

"Few of the girls can read music. Therefore, all the songs must be taught by note. Very often the girls enter the music room in a rebellious mood, but a few songs soothe their temper and improve their dispositions."

"Girls who display a real interest or talent are given special instruction. The orchestra, composed of girl musicians, is a great success and all are ambitious to become expert enough to be enrolled. We also have choir and glee clubs. The girls are taught correct breathing, enunciation and expression. They display great interest in the instruction."

How to Look and Feel Younger

Scientific Stimulation Will Banish That Tired, Nervous Appearance

Nothing detracts so much from the appearance of strength and success in a man as lack of plenty of firm, hard flesh on his bones. Thin, underweight men have no endurance, tire easily and have hard work to keep going—they are the ones who lose out in the race for success.

If you want the appearance and vitality of strong, successful, vigorous men, you should try a healthful and proven digestive stimulant. After the first few days you will note renewed energy, your food will taste better and you will experience an added snap and vigor. As you continue, you will find your weight increasing—in the place of wavy lines and flabby muscles, there will be smooth, firm, solid flesh.

As you continue to get full nutriment out of your food as brought about by this scientific stimulant, the nerves become sturdier and more controlled, the eyes brighter and there will be a determination and vigor in your actions that will surprise you as well as your friends. These facts may seem amazing to you, but realize like these are happening every day to men all around you.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.—Adv.

Summer White House Site in Doubt, West Favored

Outside East Regarded as Good Politics by Observers

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—That President Coolidge is thinking of spending the summer vacation somewhere west is whispered about the White House.

When the idea was suggested last spring it was promptly rebuffed, and the fact that the presidential family really didn't go west, gave rise to the pretty general opinion that it couldn't be induced to think of such a thing under any circumstances.

All the same, President Coolidge's conditions change. A settled yet, certainly, but the prevailing in the vicinity of the White House may not be turned.

didn't phase him. The exercise part of it was all right, but he was so sorry for the fish, whenever he caught one, that it spoiled his fun entirely.

THE "presidential spokesman," on being asked as to the Coolidge's plans for the summer, rejoined: "All I know is what you newspaper boys have written." Quite likely that's all the "spokesman" knows to a dead certainty. However, it's equally certain that he's done some thinking about it and the signs are that the west is being weighed in the balance, even though it ultimately may be found wanting.

Face of Man in Moon Lopsided Say Astronomers Who Hope to Prove Claim

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 27.—"The moon is made of green cheese," said John Heywood, English dramatist and actor, in his book "Proserpina," issued by a band pass in the days of William Shakespeare.

And now come the learned astronomers who today put forth the claim that the face of that beaming old man of the night is lopsided—that the celestial body is far from being a perfect disc of silvery beauty.

The how's and why's of this latest contention will be given over to spot on the morning of Jan. 28 at 2:35 a. m. At that time the planet Saturn will be seen by the naked eye, quite close to the moon. As the moon moves on its way across the heavens it will come near to Saturn. Until at 7:28 o'clock it will escape that planet. An hour and 27 minutes later Saturn will come from behind the moon.

Dairies Come Out of Slump; Defeat Wilmington

Local Quintet Sets Fast
Pace and Keeps It Up;
Trims College Five, 47-29Splendid Exhibition of Basketball Seen as Dairymen Once More
Come into Their Own; Lop-Sided Score Does Not Tell
Story of Isaly Battle To Keep LeadBY EDDIE SCHOENLEB
Sports Editor, The Star

SETTING the fastest pace of the year and keeping it, the Isaly Dairy basketball team last night once more stepped into its own after a three weeks' slump, and trounced Wilmington College, 47 to 29, in one of the most interesting games staged on the Star Auditorium court this season.

The lop-sided score does not tell the story of the brilliant exhibition of basketball displayed by both teams and does not indicate the fight that Isalies had to keep in the lead. Although the skirmish promised to become a rough and tumble affair in the last few minutes, with Wilmington leading the football tactics, neither team let up in its lively playing.

The contest began with a rush and ended in the same manner. Peety, who had not caught a field goal in the two preceding games, dropped in the first basket from the goal line and Applegett followed with a pretty basket from a side angle. Furness, of Wilmington, tied the score with a free throw and basket—and the war was on.

The Dairies gradually drew away from the visitors, with Peety, Applegett, Minard and Tschann dropping the spheres through the hoop from near and all angles. They couldn't be stopped. The Wilmington defense didn't know what it was all about. Finally with about five minutes to play in the first half and the score standing 15 to 11 against them, the visiting eagles got their hands on the ball for a change and counted two field goals in rapid succession, tying the score.

It was the last time they were within easy striking distance of the lively local quintet. Phillips, going in for Peety, who was suffering with an injured leg, connected for two. Applegett caught a basket. Minard looped one through the hoop, and Applegett went out of his turn to again count two points. The half ended 25 to 15 with the Dairies going ahead.

The second half was merely a repetition of what had gone before, with the exception that the visitors at times forgot that they were on a hardwood floor and not a gridiron when they became overanxious to make a few points. Johnny Metcalfe, star back guard of the Wilmington crew, was finally ushered from the game with four personal fouls.

Applegett led off in the second period with a neat basket from a rather difficult angle. Minard followed with one from the same spot, and Applegett scored a point from the charity mark before Wilmington understood that the second half was under way. From then on, the scoring was divided almost equally among the two teams, with Isalies showing up on the field goals in the last five minutes.

The Dairies last night, for the first time in three weeks, looked like a real basketball outfit. Their passing and shooting was the best seen on the floor this season. Little dribbling was on the program. The locals set a pace that has on various occasions this season, fired them out before the rest of the fray. But for the first time they refused to fire, much to the disappointment of their opponents.

No Easy Mark. And they were up against no easy mark. The Wilmington quintet had a pass formation when they started down the floor that made spectators look the second time to find the ball. But the staunch defense of the Dairies was ruinous to all attempts at the basket. The visitors' defense was weak, and did not even seem organized. The players ran about the floor looking for some one to guard while the Isaly forwards shot from the other side of the court.

Furness, formerly of Harding High and at present a resident of Green Camp, was by far the best player with Wilmington. Furness caught five field goals and five three throws for more than half the points scored by his team. The passing and floor work were also unexcelled.

Zigler Not So Good. "Cal" Zigler, captain and center of the Quakers, carrying the reputation of being one of the best basket shots in the country, failed to play as well as expected. Although he managed to drop in four field goals, his team work was rather weak. He spent a great deal of his time "crabbing" about referee Campbell's decisions and telling his teammates how to play basketball. Metcalfe at guard was one of the best seen here this season. "Chick" Weiner failed to play his usual game for the Green and White and was finally jerked by Coach Shifty Bolten. Minard was credited with six held balls and two free throws last night and played a good all-around game at center. Peety came back to his usual form and scored nine points. Applegett looped the ball through the hoop on five occasions. Phillips chalked up seven points and Tschann capped two buckets. Miller played his usual bang-up game at back guard. K. O. Kunkler got into the fray long enough to make two persons, but since the battle had turned into a grid war at that stage, the two fouls are excusable.

Midways Again Defeat
East Side Aces, 30-21

Win Preliminary Event to Isaly-Wilmington Game
Last Night

The Midway Lunches last night scored their second victory of the season over the East Side Aces when they won the preliminary to the Isaly-Wilmington game, 30 to 21.

The preliminary proved to be one of the best games played on the local floor in three weeks. The rivalry between the Aces and Lunches has both teams on edge at all times. The Aces led the Midways at the end of the first quarter, 6 to 4, but were unable to hold the lead.

THEY'RE TWINS!

Here are two reasons why Caladonia High School boys are leading the county basketball league in the east section.

Yes, they're twins.

The one on the left is Robert Whitehead and the other is Richard. They are the two flashy forwards of the Caladonia outfit and have ruled the hopes of three teams so far this season.

Robert and Richard are 17 years of age and are sophomores in Caladonia High School. They were born in Scott Township and are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehead. There is no feature by which one may be told from the other and instructors in the high school have often complained that they do not know "which is which."

Coach Brodman of the Caladonia Jollys also struggles under difficulties. If Richard makes a bad pass while the number of his jersey is not discernible, the coach does not know whether it is Richard or his brother that deserves instructions when they come off the floor. In basketball attire, the two boys cannot be designated even by their closest friends if they stand a short distance away.

It is their first year as regulars on the Caladonia team and they have two more to go.

It is the first time in the history of Marion County High school basketball that a team has had twins playing together on the same quintet, according to all existing records available about the county. And it is one of the few occasions on which twins have been found on any team, high school or college, in the state and country.

Caladonia is proud of the two stars, even if they are not certain who is who.

Marion Women to Bowl
Columbus Team Saturday

And now comes a treat for Marion bowling fans.

At 8:30, Saturday night, on the Y. M. C. A. alley, a representative team of bowlers from the Marion Business Women's Club will meet a group of women from the Gettysburg Bowling League of Columbus in the first match of its kind ever held in this city. Local women have bowled against each other, but never has an outside quintet composed of women appeared here in a contest of this nature.

Those who will come here from Columbus are Nellie Gambel, Grace Shott, Flossie Smallwood, Kathryn Volt and Carrie Schmidt.

Those representing Marion are Elta Blum, Alice Wheaton, Jane Shagle, Irene Reynolds and Ruth Porter.

According to all advance reports, it would be more fitting if one of Marion's leading industrial or National League teams came to the Columbus women from the Radio Electric League at Columbus last year the team finished in third place. The group of women has bowled teams in all parts of the state and ranks in the 200 class.

Local women have little hopes of winning the match but they will furnish plenty of opposition and make the visitors show their stuff. All the Marion women have been bowlers in the neighborhood of 150 or more during the last few weeks and many could themselves Saturday night against their first out-of-town opponents.

The representatives of the Business Women's Club are planning on looking out for themselves.

SUNDAY BASEBALL IS NOT LEGAL IN VIRGINIA

Richmond, Va., Jan. 21.—Sunday baseball is not legal in Virginia, the supreme court of appeals has held.

A test was made by the Richmond and Portsmouth Clubs of the Virginia League when they staged a no-admission game at Portsmouth in May, 1925. The players and two umpires were fined $5 each on a charge of "laboring at their calling on Sunday." They appealed. The judgment given by the Norfolk County circuit court was upheld by the higher court.

Ohio State Five to Seek
Another Victory at Home
With Gophers as Victims

After Narrow Escape with Illinois Last Saturday, Buckeyes Hope
To Have Better Luck with Gophers in Coliseum at Columbus Saturday Night; Great Game Expected

Columbus, Jan. 21.—Victory in 18 consecutive Western Conference basketball games on its own floor, Ohio State will seek to run its string to 18 here tomorrow night with Minnesota as the intended victim. But in spite of having routed out the equivalent of three seasons play here without losing to a Big Ten team, the Buckeyes have several reasons to know that their work is not out for them.

First, they barely escaped defeat last Saturday here at the hands of a driving Illinois quintet that was finally turned back 29 to 28, in one of the most thrilling games this city ever has seen. Next, the Gophers, who come here tomorrow, almost defeated Purdue last Saturday on the Indianapolis floor, and have shown increasing strength with each game. Finally, they know by experience, it isn't safe to take any Big Ten basketball team lightly.

Went 33 at Home. In the three Big Ten campaigns beginning with 1921 and including the 1927 season to date, Ohio State has won 23 and lost three games at home. It lost the opening Big Ten game here in 1924 to Illinois, one year later to Princeton and another a year ago to Cornell. In winning 18 consecutive Big Ten games here, the Ohioans have rolled up 370 points to 422 for their opponents. And for all games, non-conference included, they have amassed in that time 1177 points to 792 for the combined opposition.

In the four campaigns the Buckeyes have met 13 different teams here from once to four times each and have lost at home only to the three named above. All of the other nine Big Ten quintets have met here twice in a row. The other victims have included Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Pittsburgh, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio University, Wittenberg, Western Reserve, Kenyon and Butler.

Shake Up in Team. Coach Harold G. Olson probably will shake up his lineup still further in an attempt to bolster the team's power against Minnesota. Artie Tabbert, center, has about demonstrated that he can't be left on the bench, since he can play any position acceptably. Joe Cox, restored to the back guard post, gave a good account of himself while Harry Fetter, who had been on that job, was out on account of bronchitis.

Finishing a suitable running mate to "Big" McMillen at forward seems to be the most pressing problem confronting the Buckeye coach. Dell and Grub both have had whirls at the job.

The five women are anxiously awaiting the first contest to see just what kind of a showing the local outfit makes. The Columbus team is scheduled to arrive here at 8 o'clock and start the battle at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday night. A large crowd is expected to be on hand.

VOCATIONAL PREPS. TRIM
COZY INN CAGERS, 39-10

Score Easy Victory Over
Isaly Quintet Wednesday

Harding High Vocational Preps Wednesday night defeated the Cozy Inn quintet from Big Island, 39 to 10, in a lopsided victory. The snappy pass work of the Vocationals was the feature of the game.

Hammerton, of the Preps, was high scorer with eight field goals while Anthony was close on his heels with five buckets. Howison made three and Haas, Tuttle and Thrush were credited with one each. G. Tennant was the Cozy Inn star.

The Harding Vocationals will battle the Bucyrus High Vocationals in the preliminary to the Harding-Bucyrus game at Bucyrus tonight.

HARDING CAGERS
PLAY BUCYRUS
THERE TONIGHT

Will Endeavor To Break Up
Long Series of Victories

The fighting Harding High cagers will journey to Bucyrus tonight, leaving Marion at 5:15 o'clock, for the regular C. M. & E. car, for the annual cage tilt with the Crawfords County lads on the Bucyrus court.

With four hard practice sessions under their belts since the defeat at Mansfield last week, Harding High cagers are ready for any team, and preferably the set of cagers that has downed the locals for five consecutive years. Harding tonight will endeavor to break up the string of victories credited to Bucyrus.

Joe Rinnert, guard and center of the local squad, is out of the game tonight with an injured ankle and probably will not see action again within the next two weeks. His absence will handicap the Harding quintet, although Coach Compton has a number of capable men for the position.

Since Rinnert and not lack of ability was the primary cause of the Mansfield defeat last week and almost caused the downfall of the local cagers in the Lima Central tilt, if Harding can get rid of the stage fright epidemic it will face Bucyrus on almost equal terms, with the exception of the fact that Bucyrus will have the advantage of its home floor.

Bucyrus has won seven out of eight games so far this season, suffering its only defeat at the hands of the strong Lima South outfit. Last week, the Crawford County crew trounced Galien, severely in a North Central league game. Bucyrus is tied with Mansfield and Ashland for the lead in the S. C. O. League.

Harding High Vocational preps will take part in the preliminary game tonight when they face the Bucyrus Vocationals.

SWISS TEAM STRONG. The Swiss hockey team which won the championship of Europe in 1928 is expected to make a strong bid for first honors in the Olympic winter games of 1928-29.

MITT ARTISTS READY. The Simon pure mitt artists of the far west, will have a chance to display their wares Feb. 23, when the Pacific Coast amateur boxing championship will be held in Los Angeles.

In my concert work, I must, of course, give first consideration to my voice. Naturally, I am very careful about my choice of cigarettes as I must have the blend which is kindly to my throat. I smoke Lucky Strikes, finding that they meet my most critical requirements.

Lucky Strikes have become the favorites of men whose priceless voices thrill their audiences, as they have with the millions, because, first, they afford greater enjoyment, and, second, they are certain not to irritate even the most sensitive throat.

In smoking, he prefers Lucky Strikes because they give the greatest enjoyment and throat protection.

Manager Marion Hinklin of Dairies Takes Stand on Proposed Series

BY LUDIE SCHENLEB
 Marion Hinklin, manager of the Marion Dairies, has taken a stand on the proposed series of games between the Dairies and the Marion Steam Shovel team. Hinklin, who has been in charge of the Dairies for several years, has a long record of success in the city. He has won several championships and has been a member of the city council. Hinklin is a well-known figure in Marion and is respected by all. He has a strong opinion on the proposed series and has made his stand known.

conditions under which the winning team should be called champions of Marion. "If the Shovels play us with a crew of outsiders like Bob Shea, Mel Shaw and others on their team, why should they be called city champions when possibly only one or two of the players come from Marion?" Hinklin asked today. "We have a team composed entirely of Marion men who have held the championship of this city for the last five years and why should we take the chance of getting kicked by a group of outsiders who would then claim the title?" "If the Shovels wish to play us for the city championship we will let them use the team that they started the season with, composed of Bacon, Compton, Wilson, Schwab and Bolyer. If Schwab joins the Chimerati Reds before the series is played here, we will give the Shovels the opportunity of bringing in another outside player to fill his position at center." Manager Hinklin announced. "If we play the Shovels, we must know the lineup for certain several days before the first game and the lineup must remain the same in each game of the series, in spite of injuries or other mishaps. That is, Manager Bacon will have the choice of using one of his regular Steam Shovel emblems like Ward, Travin and others in case one of his first starters get hurt in a game. The same rule will prevail with us and Bacon's side will be as good as our side," Hinklin declared. "At present," Manager Hinklin continued, "Bacon wishes to not let his lineup be known until the day before the first game. We have a number of backers and the Shovels have men who will stand out for their team, but if we do not know who we are going to play until the last minute, how can those who are backing us know with whom they are dealing?" "We want to play a team composed of as many local players as possible for the benefit of the large crowds that will attend the games. If we want to play the Columbus Kintners we will play them under their own name and not under the name of the Marion Steam Shovels," he declared. "Will Not Flip" When asked about where the first game would be played, Manager Hinklin said that he would not flip a coin. "The first game in the series will be staged in the Star Auditorium because it is the proper place to hold the fray. It is centrally located and is easily reached by all. We are out to accommodate the crowds and basketball fans as the first game will be played up town," he declared. Manager Bacon a few days ago announced that a coin would be flipped to decide where the first game would be played and then the next games would alternate between the Star court and the Steam Shovel gym. Mr. Hinklin denies this agreement exists. "The games must also be played under strict collegiate rules," Manager Hinklin said. "Four personal fouls and out goes the foul maker. Two of the best officials in the Ohio

Conference will be selected for the work of refereeing and umpiring the important games. Mr. Hinklin said. "Have Something to Say" In reply to the discussion of the players to make up the Steam Shovel team, Hinklin said, "I'll admit that I wish to dictate who shall and who shall not play on the Shovel team if it is playing us for the city championship. As holders of the title for the last five years, I think we have something to say in the matter of the use of foreign players." It is almost an established fact that the Shovels and Dairies will meet before the end of the season.

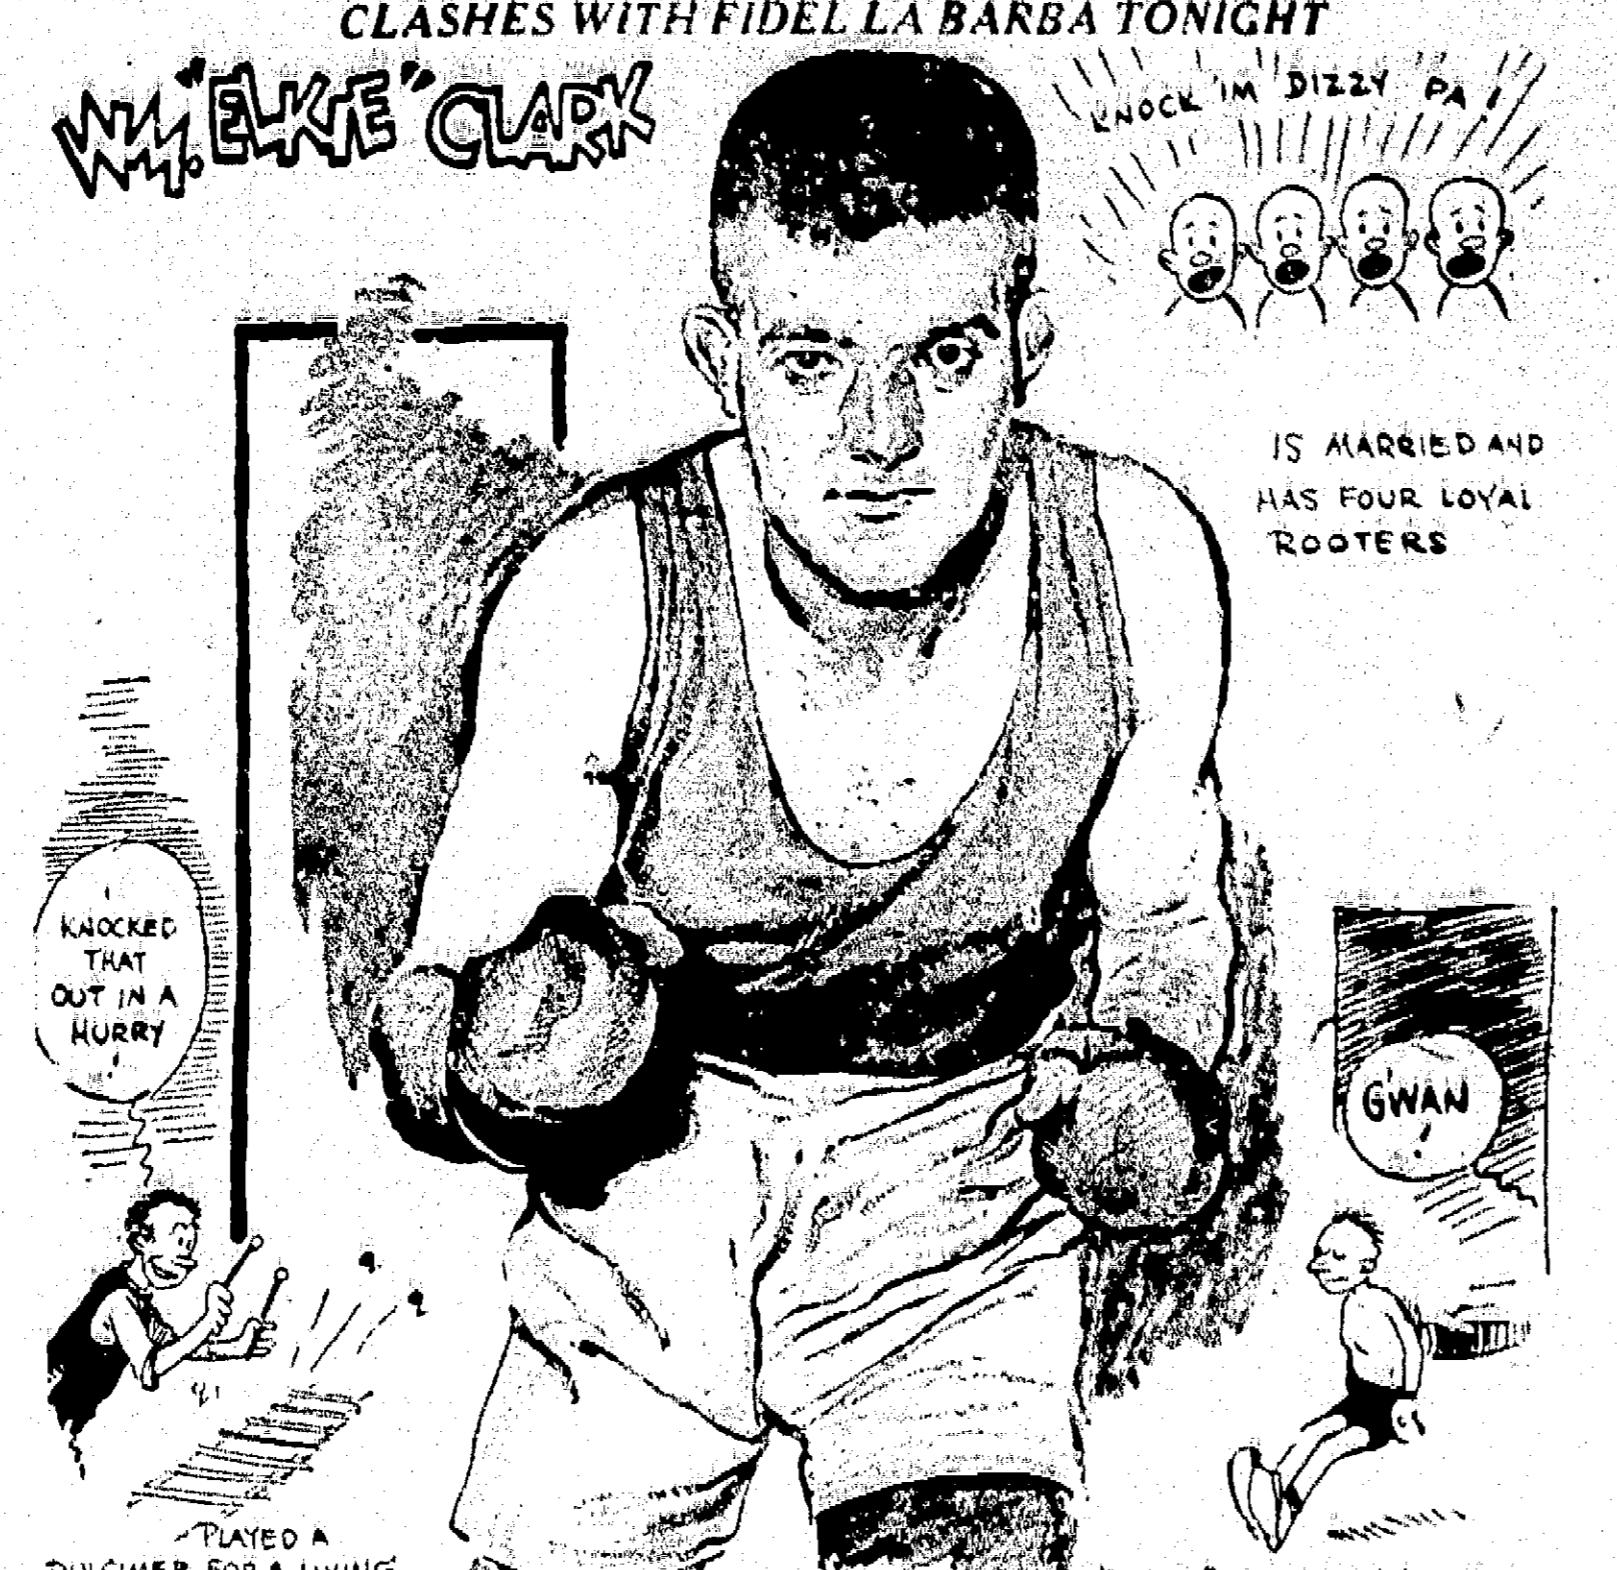

but at present the managers are unable to agree. The first official suggestion of a meeting of the two teams came Monday night when representatives and managers of the two outfits met to discuss the matter. All arrangements mentioned have developed out of the first meeting. More far will probably fly at the next meeting and promise of heated arguments prevails but, sometime in the future, the two teams may clash. And when they do, Marion basketball fans will enjoy the classic of the season and a series of the most interesting games ever staged in Marion.

Elky Clark and Fidel La Barba Will Battle for Flyweight Title Tonight

Barba's Champion Will Endeavor To Take Crown from La Barba in World's Title Match; La Barba Favored To Win; Clark May Remind Fans of Jimmy Wilde

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
 On Jan. 21—Memories of the fight between Elky Clark and Fidel La Barba, which took place in the Star Auditorium, will be fresh in the minds of the city's boxing fans. Clark, who is a native of England, is a well-known figure in the boxing world. He has won several championships and has been a member of the city council. Clark is a well-known figure in Marion and is respected by all. He has a strong opinion on the proposed series and has made his stand known.

and aimed punches that no longer could hurt until the referee called a humane halt. Wilde's opponent happened to be the late Pancho Villa but the real victor was age. "Hard Man To Equal" "That's the kind of man they are asking Clark to equal. It would seem as though they are asking a great plenty, just to be sure. He may or may not have an advantage over La Barba, at that, in two particulars. The class limit of 112 pounds, which both will be required to make at two o'clock this afternoon, is supposed to be a formality

CLASHES WITH FIDEL LA BARBA TONIGHT

INDUSTRIAL LOOP GAMES TUESDAY

Games in the Marion Industrial Basketball League will be played Tuesday night, next week, instead of Monday night. Due to the fact that Monday night is the date of the Canto Club concert in the Star Auditorium, the change has been made by agreement of the various teams and those in charge of the concert.

for the invader. The general idea about La Barba is that he is making the weight with difficulty, if at all. He will be weakened, they intimate. I don't believe it.

The comparative records of the pair also indicate that Clark carries the decisive punch. Somehow, I don't believe that either of them has a good ground knocking them silly since he became champion within the year he left the amateur ranks but the idea is that he doesn't have to murder Clark. It is only necessary that he beat him and, favored by youth, speed and the twelve round distance, there is every reason to suspect that he will.

He might even do it with one hand, as Clark is supposed to be a snip for a left and Fidel is surely one left hand after another. It will be the first international meeting since the Dempsey-Firpo frolic in September, 1923, but I can't seem to recall seeing any one rushing but less through the streets on that account. The boys, in fact, seem to be facing the crisis with great calmness.

Three Games Tonight in North Central Ohio Loop

While Harding High hoopers are battling the strong Bucyrus crew on the Crawford County floor tonight, two other North Central Ohio League games will be in session. Mansfield High will journey to Delaware and Ashland will play at Gallion tonight. The Harding-Bucyrus game is more or less a toss-up if the locals do not suffer stage fright, but Mansfield should win over Delaware and Ashland should have little trouble with Gallion. Mansfield High displayed its strength last week in the first N. C. O. League game when it romped all over Harding on the Richmond County court. Delaware, although playing on its home floor, is due for a trimming if it does not show any better than it did in the Ashland game a couple of weeks ago.

DELANEY MATCH

Bout With Jimmy Maloney Hangs in Balance
 New York, Jan. 21.—The fate of the Jack Delaney-Jimmy Maloney heavy weight elimination match hung in the balance today as the New York State Athletic Commission went into session to consider Tommy Loughran's plea that Delaney be forced to defend his light heavyweight title before entering the heavyweight stakes. Chairman Jim Farley already has declared unofficially for champions remaining in their own class but the full sentiment of the commission will not be known until William Muldoon and George E. Brown cast their votes.

STAR TEAMS BOWL

The Editorial department of the Star will clash with the Advertising department on the bowling alley of the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30, Saturday afternoon. Both teams have been practicing for the title and a battle royal is expected. The winner of the match Saturday will probably challenge the regular Star team to battle on the slabs in the near future.

HUBER BOWLERS DEFEAT MARION COUNTY LUMBER

Anthony's Win Two from Peasny and Hocking Valley Rollers
 Huber bowlers last night won three out of four from the Marion County Lumber when Anthony's were taking two of three from the Peasny and Hocking Valley rollers. Hubers had the advantage in downing their opponents and Anthony's started good, winning the first two games but a surprise in the final three rollers came through from the Hubers.

STATE GYM AND FENCING TEAMS OPEN CAMPAIGNS

Start Season Away from Home Saturday Night at Wesleyan
 Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—Two Ohio State varsity squads will open their 1937 campaigns Saturday away from home, while two others continue their schedules and another pair keep up their preparation for meets soon to come.

The Buckeye fencing squad, which won the Big Ten title a year ago, and the gym team, built around Captain C. W. Smith, individual Big Ten champion in 1926, will go to Delaware for meets with Ohio Wesleyan teams. The Ohio State cage squad makes its last appearance here in three weeks with Minnesota as its opponent. Next week the Ohioans play a return game with the Gophers at Minneapolis and the following week they are scheduled at Iowa.

AWORTHY LEADS

 Chicago, Jan. 21.—Ray Miller, the up-and-coming featherweight from Chicago's west side, was offered to the world today as the Middle West's candidate for the world's championship crown relinquished by Kip Kaplan.

NATIONAL GRID LEAGUE TO MEET IN FEBRUARY

Columbus, O., Jan. 21.—Annual meeting of the National Football League will be held Feb. 24 at the Astor Hotel, New York, according to an announcement made here today by Joe F. Carr, president of the league. Trophies will be awarded to team members of the champion Franklin Yellow Jackets.

CALEDONIA CAGE TEAMS TO MEET MT. GILEAD

Games Will Be Played at Caledonia Saturday Night
 The Caledonia Blue and White basketball squads are going out of their class when they tangle with Couch Matheny's Mt. Gilead hoopers on the Caledonia floor, Saturday night.

So far, this season, Mt. Gilead teams have been a little erratic, due largely to ineligibility. But it is said that these difficulties have been patched up and Couch Matheny's team are going to be forced to their utmost to cop the battles Saturday night.

STAR TEAMS BOWL

The Editorial department of the Star will clash with the Advertising department on the bowling alley of the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30, Saturday afternoon. Both teams have been practicing for the title and a battle royal is expected. The winner of the match Saturday will probably challenge the regular Star team to battle on the slabs in the near future.

Movin' On

WALTER HENLINE, for five years the mainstay of the Phillies behind the plate, will wear a Brooklyn uniform the coming season. He went to Dodgers town via the Giants a short time ago in a bewildering swap of baseball material.

It was the second time Henline had been a Giant. He was purchased by the club in the winter of 1920 from Indianapolis and was traded to the Phils in July, 1921, with Curt Walker for Emil Muesel, a pitcher and catcher.

A couple of years later McGraw tried to buy him back and persuaded for a couple of years. Had to let him go to the Dodgers this time to get Burleigh Grimes, veteran pitcher, after he got his hands on him (Henline).

Henline received his first tryout with the E. Wayne team in the Central League in 1917. Released without trial he played semi pro ball there and in Cleveland, O., for a couple of years. Signed with Indianapolis in 1918 only to join the army. Loaned to Bloomington by the Hoosiers in 1919 and released.

American League Meeting Promises More Fireworks Than Landis "Showdown"

War Correspondents Assigned to Landis-Johnson Feud Find News Scarce; Principal Characters Refuse To Make Statement Revealing Strategy at "Showdown"

BY GENE HOFFMAN

Chicago, Jan. 21.—War correspondents assigned to the Landis-Johnson baseball feud were running around in circles today, interviewing themselves. News was scarce. Generals Landis and Johnson remained at their respective headquarters, surrounded only by their adjutants and chiefs of staff. They refused to make any statement that would reveal their strategy at the impending "showdown" battle, scheduled for Monday of next week.

Even the usually talkative American League president could not be coaxed into more than an indirect answer to a very direct question. When asked if he would resign at the American League directors' meeting set for Sunday, the day before the Landis hearing, Johnson replied:

"I have been in business steadily for 21 years."

Johnson chuckled. Johnson didn't say so. But from sources close to headquarters it was learned the American League proxy got a deep chuckle out of attending his own sack and funeral as "late" president of the American League, as conducted by eastern sports writers. He knows Mr. Barrow, chosen as his successor, and has a high regard for his ability.

It was recalled today that a little matter of $360,000 will have to be considered before any attempt can be made to force President Johnson into retirement. He has a contract with the American League that does not expire until 1935, at $10,000 per annum.

The way things look today, the Sunday meeting of American League executives will furnish more fireworks than

SHOVELS LOSE

Representative Volleyball Team Defeated at Tiffin
 The Marion Steam Shovel representative volleyball team Wednesday night lost three games to the Tiffin Y. M. C. A. crew on the latter's floor. The scores were 15-8, 13-7 and 15-8.

The Shovels seemed to be unable to get going against the stiff Tiffin aggregation in any of the three games. The Tiffin men are expected here within the next few weeks for a return match.

AMERICAN SLANG TO BE FORGOTTEN, SAYS EXPERT

All Nation Has To Do Is "Settle Down," Asserts Professor

Chicago, Jan. 21.—American slang is merely a part of the youth and life of modern life and probably will be forgotten when the present generation is down, in the belief of Prof. Edward C. Marie, professor of speech, University of Iowa.

Professor Marie did not condemn slang. He termed it "obscuring rather than degenerating" and said it served the purpose of making the colloquial of quick, ready speech for the more redundant Victorian variety, it will disappear.

The passing of slang will be a part of the growth of an American civilization rivaling in many respects that of the Athens of Sophocles according to Professor Marie. The incorporation of slang into the vocabulary of the schools, of speech in various colleges into theatrical institutions will be predicted. "produce an artistic public rivaling Greece in her greatest days."

"Students by study and through actual production of great plays," he said, "will acquire an appreciation of dramatic diction which will be the foundation of a vast appreciative American audience."

The well known word "able" was barred forever from proper American vocabularies.

"While it may be short and vivid," said Professor Marie, "it will never appear in standard dictionaries. It is a delayed contraction of two words and has no place in the vocabulary."

Professor Marie is president of the National Association of Teachers of Speech and specializes in dramatics.

Frosted Niagara Draws New Group of Tourists

A striking view of the Cave of the Winds.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—Niagara Falls, a name that conjures up the pleasures of memories close to the hearts of most of America's housewives and one that brings thrills of anticipation to America's people, the holiday season is beginning to take on another meaning. For the honeymoon city of the United States, where countless thousands have spent the happiest moments of their lives, is now attracting other tourists to view its magnificent winter scenery.

In other years the tourist season at the falls came in a close year after year. But when the traveling public turned its attention to the resorts in the winter months. Now, however, the great beauty of the winter scenery, created by their winter coats of frost and snow, seems to have captured the vacation public. As the first flurry of winter snows the very best of winter scenery and the very best of winter scenery and the very best of winter scenery.

Winter, however, is not the only time to visit the falls. The winter months are the best time to visit the falls. The winter months are the best time to visit the falls.

It is a fact to be overlooked the beauty of the winter months. Although the winter months are the best time to visit the falls, the winter months are the best time to visit the falls. The winter months are the best time to visit the falls.

Ohio Educators Rally to Aid of Ohio School Students

DECLARE THEY ARE NOT LAZY, NOT "MORONS"

Interviews Follow Allegations Made at Hearing Before State Committee

Columbus, Jan. 21—Pupils of Ohio schools are emphatically not "morons" or "lazy boys and girls," and college students—the big majority of them—are not "mentally deficient," or "incapable of receiving a higher education," in the opinions of the educational authorities of Ohio who deal with these two classes of students.

This consensus was reflected today in interviews with educators obtained by representatives of International News Service, in connection with the hearing before the state committee on the charges of the Ohio Senate, during a public hearing on Senator Paul M. Herbert's bill to limit the entrance of students to state-supported educational institutions by rigid examinations.

The charges of the Columbus senator, given widespread publicity throughout the state, evoked prompt and vigorous denial from most of the educational authorities.

Takes Little Stock

Superintendent Haskins of the Canton public schools, said:

"I take little stock in the statements made before the committee in Columbus to the effect that from 10 to 20 per cent. of high school students are 'morons' and are ineligible for higher education. If the men making that statement meant morons were simply people who have to play and work to get an education, he was probably right. His statement as to higher education is open to various interpretations, but if he meant solely, Greek, Latin and other classical studies, he might be correct. If he meant the students were incapable of making intellectual advancement, he was wrong, in my opinion."

High schools have broadened their scope of education and departed widely from the old-time definition of "higher education," the Canton educator declared.

"There are a very few dullards who get through the high schools or seek a higher education," he added.

Rev. Otto Moss, president of Capital University (Cincinnati), of Columbus, declared that "he hesitated to agree with the statement made concerning colleges and universities."

But Not Morons

"The true records of our schools show that a high percentage of students are not making good at their studies, but I do not think this should lead to their classification as 'morons' or 'lazy students.' Causes for this lack of benefit might be found at sources outside the student himself. Influences such as home life, associations and contacts outside the school I believe have much to do with a student's advancement in school."

"I take no stock in such statements," fully declared Dr. Frederick C. Hicks, president of University of Cincinnati. "Although I do not like to participate in such controversies, I do not believe there is any greater proportion of a lack of mentality among youth of today than there was among that of 40 years ago. Although I have no definite figures to gauge the college incompetency at 50 per cent, I do declare he 'believed one-fifth too high an estimate of the morons, unless you change the definition of the word.'"

"Fifty per cent of the college students are mentally deficient or are abnormally trained," he said.

"Rash Statements"

George McCord, superintendent of Akron public schools, characterized the charges against students as "pretty rash statements."

"It is true that some high school students have dull intellects, but not 10 or 15 per cent of them," he said. "Should be classified as 'morons.' Some college students, of course, are below par, but that is no reason for denying anyone a high school or college education. In the final analysis, my attempt to classify 'morons' results in making it harder for the sons and daughters of poor people to obtain an education."

"There are no morons in the Cleveland high schools," said C. H. Lake, acting superintendent of Cleveland schools. "All students are not mentally equal, and a certain percentage are relatively 'dumb-bells,' but the theory in the Cleveland schools is that even these will benefit by certain kinds of instruction."

Edward J. Bracken, dean of John Carroll University, Cleveland, declared that "some students in universities are unqualified for a higher education, but the number does not exceed ten per cent and is certainly not so high as one-fifth."

"Even including the students who are unqualified because they will not study, it is impossible to say that higher education is wasted on more than one-fourth of the students," he said.

COMSTOCK'S WIFE ASKS FOR ABSOLUTE DECREE

Declares Husband Forced Way into Room and Knocked Her Down

Miami, Fla., Jan. 21—According to a story which broke into her room in a Miami Beach Apartment Tuesday night and knocking her down with a chair, Evelyn Cady Comstock today evidenced a decided change of mind and asked an "absolute divorce" in circuit court here from the real estate man whom she had charged with divorcing her by fraud.

Comstock's former wife charges, in an amendment to the bill asking revocation of the divorce decree, that Comstock, drunk and profane, forced his way into her room and struck her in the face Tuesday night, five days after Comstock, cabaret dancer, had begun to wait for Comstock's alleged promise of a wedding ceremony.

RECOMMENDS BILL

Washington, Jan. 21—The Trencher bill requiring bonds of trade to extend reading privileges to all farmers co-operative organizations has been recommended for passage by the house agricultural committee.

The amount of gold used each year in the manufacture of jewelry and ornaments is estimated to be worth $100,000,000.

PROSECUTOR TO CONTINUE HIS ORGIES PROBE

Seven Men Indicted on Serious Charges by Lake County Grand Jury

Painesville, Jan. 21.—Although seven men have been indicted by a Lake County grand jury on serious statutory charges in connection with alleged "beach orgies," the investigation of the investigation of the affair is to be continued.

Those indicted late yesterday were: Felix Jones, 35, negro; George Thompson, 40; Victor Klein, 10; Charles Pagen, 19; Dominie Nanzelberg, 30; James Long, 20, and Ray Belta, 30. The latter formerly was a merchant here.

At least six other boys and a score of girls will be taken before the probate court in connection with the affair. Several girls are to be taken to the house of correction, it was declared.

Most of the indictments were returned on the testimony of a nineteen-year-old girl, according to Painesville. Through her testimony it was learned of the nightly affairs which have been carried on along the beaches of Kittland, Willoughby and Painesville for several months.

One of those indicted was the former night watchman at Andrews Institute, an exclusive school for girls, several of whom testified as to their participation in the "parties."

Paula said today that charges will be made against at least five other men.

THIRD MAN MAY DIE AS RESULT OF BUS CRASH

Watchman at Columbus Crossing Arrested When Liquor Is Smelled on Breath

Columbus, Jan. 21.—Two bodies were in a local morgue, one man in a serious condition in a hospital, with a fractured skull, and a crossing watchman is held on a charge of possessing liquor, today as the aftermath of a collision between a Big Four passenger train and a Dayton and Columbus bus here yesterday afternoon.

Six other persons were injured, but none seriously enough to be held in the hospital overnight.

Dr. J. M. Buffington, Columbus, nationally-known veterinary surgeon, and Daniel P. Davies, 22, of Columbus, were killed.

William F. Castle of Worthington was also from his injuries. The other seriously injured passengers included Mrs. Ruth Murray, West Jefferson; Mrs. J. E. Vent, Dayton; Walter Gutierrez, London, Norris Dettra, Oakes, Pa.; Harry A. McAlle, Pittston, Pa.; and Alfred Humpauer, Springfield, bus driver.

Humpauer, detained for several hours, was exonerated of blame and released, after his testimony that he stopped and looked for trains at the crossing was substantiated by several witnesses. He testified the watchman was not visible at the crossing.

Investigators, smelling liquor on the breath of the watchman, the watchman, raided his home and seized a quantity of beer and wine, and charged him with illegal possession of liquor. He was to be arraigned today.

LOCAL STOCKYARDS HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Directors Re-elected; $1,557,917.56 Paid for Livestock in 1926, Report

An unusually large volume of business was transacted by the Marion Union Stockyards Co. during 1926, reports submitted at the annual stockholders' meeting yesterday showing that the company paid $1,557,917.56 for livestock purchased during the year.

All members of the present board of directors were re-elected at the meeting, held at the company's office west of the city. The board consists of G. A. Thibault, Roscoe Osborn, O. W. Mapes, W. H. Holzerstott, J. H. Guthery, J. B. Guthery and French Crow.

The directors are to meet the second Wednesday in February to elect executive officers.

L. H. GUTHERY RENAMED PACKING COMPANY HEAD

All Officers and Directors of Marion Corporation Are Re-elected at Meeting

L. H. Guthery was re-elected president, treasurer and general manager of the Marion Packing Co. at the annual meeting of the company held at its office, west of the city, yesterday afternoon.

O. B. King was re-elected vice president and French Crow, secretary.

All of the present directors were re-elected. The board members are Josiah Bindler, French Crow, L. H. Guthery, J. D. Guthery, O. S. Rapp, C. B. King and J. A. Schreier.

ARCHBISHOP SUES

Presses Claim Against Estate, Claiming Shortage

Cincinnati, Jan. 21.—Common Pleas Judge Thomas H. Darity today had under advisement a claim of $43,273 against the estate of William C. Wolking, late treasurer of the Church of the Assumption, Clifton.

The claim was pressed in court here by Archbishop John T. McNichols who contended that Wolking, who died last August, was short in his church accounts.

Defense attorneys argued that the archbishop did not own the church property, and that the church could not be classified other than a general creditor.

MARYETTA ALMA EVERLY

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Alma was born in Union County, Ohio, on the thirtieth day of November, 1891, and departed this life from the home at 595 Avondale, Marion, at 5:30 a. m. on Sunday, January ninth, 1927, being at that time 32 years, one month and nine days of age. On the 19th day of February, 1912, she was united in marriage with Fred Everly, of this city, and the remaining years of her life were spent here. To them three children, namely, Marguerite, aged 12, Kenneth, aged 9 and Iris, aged 4, all three of whom survive. She was 10 1/2 months ill for two weeks and then answered the call to which we must soon or later respond. She is survived by the bereft husband. The children above named, the parents Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Alma, of West Mansfield; one sister, Mrs. Edith Wooley, of Rushsylvania; five brothers, Homer, Elver, Lincoln, Carl, of West Mansfield, O., and Chester of Bowling Green, O., and other relatives and many friends.

There is a land that is fairer than day, And by faith we can see it a day For the Father waits over the way To prepare us a dwelling place there.

NAVY NURSES GET NEW STORM CAPS

Nurses of the U. S. navy have adopted new storm caps, made of blue waterproofed material, with the ensign of the nurse's corps embroidered in gold on front. Photo shows Miss J. B. Bowman, superintendent of the navy nurses, left, trying a new cap on Miss Rose E. Walker of the navy dispensary, Washington.

YET UNIDENTIFIED

Two Persons Believed Responsible for Murder at Canton
Canton, Jan. 21.—Police here today were still without clues to the identity of a man whose body was found in a sewer Wednesday and who had been the victim of a murderer, according to Coroner T. C. McQuate.

McQuate declared today that the victim apparently had been strangled with a noose made from his underclothing. He believed that two persons had been responsible for the crime.

War wins freedom; then it is lost slowly by legislation.

BURNED TO DEATH

Butternut Ridge Farmer Claimed When Home Is Destroyed
Ellysia, Jan. 21.—An investigation will be made today into the death yesterday of William Hober, 75, a farmer of Butternut Ridge, whose charred body was taken from the ruins of his home several hours after it had been burned. It is believed that a lamp exploded and caused the fire.

Natives of the lower classes in parts of India believe it unlucky to call a man by his own name, so they speak of him as the "rat-uncle."
